Intellectual Property Basics

What are patents, trademarks, copyright and trade secrets?

This program offers a description of patents, trademarks, copyrights and trade secrets with a view towards understanding the importance and use of these powerful rights for entrepreneurs, inventors, innovators and small business owners. This program will discuss the resources that are available from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office to assist the public. Many of these resources are available for FREE.

Officials from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office will be available after the talk to answer your questions on intellectual property.

"Intellectual property is a part of our daily lives and we use it often, sometimes without even knowing it."
